108th Annual Meeting of the Academy at LC

The 108th meeting of the Arkansas Academy of Science will take place on 4-5 April 2025 (Friday and Saturday) at Lyon College, 2300 Highland Road, Batesville, AR. Most of the meeting's activities will occur in the Derby Center for Math and Science at the corner of 23rd and College Streets. Registration will open at 8:00 am on Friday morning and will be available throughout the conference. The conference activities start at 9:00 am with brief welcome by Lyon College and Batesville dignitaries. Oral presentations will start at 9:30 am and will continue throughout the day. Posters may be set up in the Scottish Heritage Building at any time and will be accessible throughout the conference. The information about the conference is available at <https://www.lyon.edu/2025-arkansas-academy-of-science-conference>. Conference fees are for Members ($170 for Non-student, and $70 for student) & Non-Members ($200 for Non-student & $100 for student). The fee covers meeting registration, banquet, mixer, incidental food, and AAS membership.

All meeting participants are encouraged to submit an abstract for a poster and/or oral presentation via the above web site. Subject areas will include biology, chemistry, engineering, data/computer science, math, physics, and social sciences.

Manuscripts for submission to JAAS Volume 79 should be submitted to the Journal website (<https://scholarworks.uark.edu/jaas/>) by April 30. For any questions contact Dr. Rahul Yadav, email: Rahul.Yadav@uafs.edu.

Request: Judges are urgently needed, if we are to resume presenting awards for student poster and oral presentations. See the conference website to sign up.

AAS Business Meeting for Everyone

The annual business meeting for ALL members of the Academy will take place Saturday, April 5, 2024, at 11:00 am in the Nucor Auditorium following the final presentations. Please make travel plans that will allow you to stay and attend the business meeting. The meeting is for you, and your attendance, contributions, expertise, and insights help the Academy provide the highest quality and service to its membership.

Academy officers on the AAS Executive committee will convene on Friday, April 4, 2025, from 11 am to noon in President's Dining Room in Edwards Commons. Lunch will be provided.

Information For Presenters

Abstract submission is open for the 2025 AAS meeting. Abstracts must be submitted online via the meeting website by March 7 for both oral and poster presentations. Presenters should clearly communicate any special equipment needs at the time of their registration. PC computer projection systems for PowerPoint will be available in all presentation rooms. All PowerPoint presentations must be on a USB flash drive. The presentation rooms will be accessible prior to the session for preloading presentation files on the desktop. Oral presentations are scheduled in 20-minute increments. Please plan on a 10–13-minute talk followed by 4-5 minutes of questions and a few minutes for observers to move among nearby rooms if desired. All oral presentations will begin on the scheduled time.

Poster size should be 48x36". Easels and backing boards will be provided. Poster sessions for all disciplines will be in Scottish Heritage Building. Posters should be set up upon arrival. They will be displayed all during the conference.

JAAS Publication

Manuscripts for publication in the Journal Volume 79, based on a presentation given at the meeting, are to be submitted by April 30, 2025, via the Journal website. PLEASE read instructions for prospective authors found on the Academy website. Any questions can be directed to the Interim Managing Editor of the Journal (Dr. Rahul Yadav, email: Rahul.Yadav@uafs.edu).

Authors must follow instructions for prospective authors found on the Academy website (<http://www.ArkansasAcademyofScience.org>) under the Journal tab. Authors that fail to follow these instructions may be asked to revise their manuscript to bring it in line with instructions before it goes out for review. Any questions may be directed to the Interim Managing Editor of the Journal (Dr. Rahul Yadav, email: Rahul.Yadav@uafs.edu).

The Journal encourages submission of manuscripts in the following areas (and other areas) of science:

- Behavioral Science
- Biochemistry
- Bioinformatics
- Cell Biology
- Chemistry
- Computer Science
- Ecology
- Engineering
- Evolutionary Biology
- Geoscience
- Invertebrate Biology
- Molecular Biology
- Physics
- Psychology
- Science education
- Vertebrate Biology

2025 AAS Registration & AAS Membership

Please register by Friday, March 1st 2024, on the 2025 AAS website to allow meeting organizers enough time to make necessary arrangements. However, later registration and day-of registration will also be available. Click here to Register. Conference fees are for Members ($170 for Non-student, and $70 for student) & Non-Members ($200 for Non-student & $100 for student) . . The Vendor Registration Fee is $500. Vendor registration includes the cost of two non-student registrations, a vendor table throughout the meeting, and vendor logo on all meeting materials. To become an AAS Member, please visit the AAS website and click on Membership. Click here for AAS Membership.

Keynote Speaker*

Mr. Michael Ray Taylor, Journalist and Professor Emeritus of Communication at Henderson State University

Investigating Dark Life

Michael is a journalist known for his work on caves and cave science. He also is a professor emeritus of communication at Henderson State University. His books include Cave Passages, Dark Life, and Hidden Nature, which was a 2021 finalist for the Reed Environmental Writing Award. His cave-related articles have appeared in The New York Times, Audubon, Sports Illustrated, National Parks, and many other magazines and newspapers. He is a fellow of the National Speleological Society, and a member of the Cave Research Foundation, and The Explorers Club. Working with biologist James Engman of Rhodes College, Michael has been investigating exotic microbes deep within certain Tennessee caves. The genesis of this project is described in Hidden Nature.

The banquet will be served at 6:00 PM on Friday followed by the keynote speaker. An evening mixer with drinks will follow the keynote speaker.

Editor's Corner: I have been contacting different Universities for a Liaison Officer to AAS. I have names from ATU, HSU, PSC, SAU, UARK and ASU. So if you are interested to serve the AAS, please feel free to contact me: R. Panneer Selvam, UARK, email: rps@uark.edu , ph: (479)575-5356

Please feel free to give your feedback to improve the news items.

Aren't you the right person to step up to a leadership role?
Editor-in-Chief position is open

Journal of the Arkansas Academy of Science (JAAS):

Manuscripts for publication in JAAS, based on a presentation given at the meeting, will be due April 30, 2025. At least one of the authors must be a member of AAS.

Manuscripts must be submitted to the JOURNAL website: <http://scholarworks.uark.edu/jaas/>. Authors and co-authors who have submitted manuscripts via the system previously, should use the contact/email and password that they used previously. New authors should follow instructions on the site to establish their profile. Authors can subsequently update their profile with any changes to their contact and account info as necessary. Should you have any problems, please contact the Editor-in-Chief (jarksci@gmail.com)

Comments for Prospective Authors

Authors are required to use the instructions found on the AAS website in preparing manuscripts submitted for publication in the JOURNAL. Authors are directly responsible for the major formatting of their article and, thus, manuscripts must be properly formatted PRIOR to submission. Of particular importance is proper setting of margins, line and paragraph spacing. Figures and tables must be inserted into their appropriate locations in the manuscript. A caption should be written under each figure and above each table. The editor and printer do no significant retyping or editing and only act to assemble the Journal. The electronic copy of the manuscript (word document, not pdf) should be a single file. To view and/or download new instructions visit the Academy website. Please note that after successful review the final product submitted by the authors will be the published document in the Journal.

All manuscripts must be submitted electronically via the JOURNAL website: <http://scholarworks.uark.edu/jaas/> with the entire review and publication procedure being handled via the server. Please allow time to get use to the new system if you have not used it before. E-mailed manuscripts will no longer be accepted.

To avoid rejection at Editorial review, PLEASE read the instructions for prospective authors found on the Academy website: <http://www.arkansasacademyofscience.org/aasjournal.html> (Journal tab). The instructions and policies can also be accessed by following the links from the Journal web site.

Awards competition for student presentations at the AAS Meeting: Students commonly present results of their research at the annual meetings of the Arkansas Academy of Science. Our award competition seeks to recognize outstanding presentations made by these students. Categories for oral presentation awards include Life Science and Physical Science, at both the undergraduate and graduate levels of competition. Awards for the best overall undergraduate and graduate poster presentations will also be made depending upon the availability of judges.
